DrugScope's blogs and more...

DrugScope blogs:

Druglink blog

Our Druglink blog features articles on drug related issues of topical interest. Its aim is to raise awareness, challenge misconceptions and, most importantly, give you the chance to express your views.

DrugData blog

This blog is regularly updated with all the additions to DrugData, our library database, including URLs where available. It also features an occasional article on a publications related topic.

Other blogs of interest:

See our Google page which brings together the feeds for blogs produced by people and organisations working in the Alcohol and Other Drug (AOD) sector: <http://drugscopeweb.googlepages.com/blogs>
